The screenshot shows the Credo Reference website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text 'molecule' and a search icon. Below the search bar, the word 'molecule' is displayed in a large font. To the right of the search bar, there is a 'Copy Link' option. Below the main heading, there is a definition of 'molecule' from The Hutchinson Unabridged Encyclopedia with Atlas and Weather. Below the definition, there are sections for 'Articles', 'Related Results', and 'Images'. The 'Images' section shows several small images related to molecules, including a diagram of two hydrogen atoms and one oxygen atom, a diagram of a single bond, and a diagram of a benzene ring. To the right of the main content, there is a large mind map visualization. The central node is 'Molecule'. It is connected to several other nodes: 'Atom', 'Chemistry', 'Chemical bond', 'Chemical compou...', 'Chemical substa...', 'Electron', 'Covalent bond', 'Unified atomic ...', and 'Electric charge'.
